Central System Administration

Central administration of the whole system landscape remotely from a central point

Scope

- Central management of administrative system operations tasks
- Preconfigured and logical collection of system administration tasks

Benefits

- Financial savings due to reduced administration effort
- Providing component specific administration skills
- Central administration of the whole system landscape remotely from a single point
- Risk reduction due to task documentation and reporting functionality